A new engine is to be installed at the Merrimack street power house of the Boston & Northern road, which will add greatly to the facilities of the station. The new engine will be a mammoth one of the Cross Compound Corliss pattern and will replace two old style Mackintosh & Seymour engines. It will be even larger than the large new engine recently installed. There is also to be added to the equipment a 500 horse power boiler of the Babcock & Wilcox make. The improvements will give the station 4000 horse power, an increase from 350 in the last nine years. This increase in power probably indicates that power will be furnished from Lawrence for the Lawrence & Salem, and Andover & Haverhill roads.

LAWRENCE

BIG ENGINE TO BE INSTALLED.

The efficiency of the Merrimack street power station of the Boston & Northern street electric railway is to be increased greatly by the installing of a new mammoth engine and a new boiler. It is only recently that one new engine was added to the plant, increasing its horse power greatly.

The new engine is to be a cross compound Corliss engine, built by the Pennsylvania Iron works. It is to replace two old style Mackintosh and Seymour engines. This change will increase the horse power of the plant by 1500 horse. It will be a direct connected machine with cylinders 28 and 36 by 48 inch stroke, with 90 revolutions a minute. It will have all the latest improvements with the gravity system of self oiling. When installed and in the best of running order it will be one of the finest machines in the city. It will be even larger than the large one now in operation in the power house and which is the pride of the company. There is also to be installed a 500 horse power boiler of the Babcock and Wilcox make. When all the intended improvements have been made the plant will have 4000 horse power at its command, an increase from 350 horse power in the last nine years, which is as to the increase of the street railway system in and about Lawrence in those years.

The plant is under the direct charge of Chief Engineer L. H. Brown of North Andover, with F. H. McQueston of that town his first assistant. Chester H. Burnham of Haverhill is third assistant, and Henry Sargent of North Andover is fourth assistant. They are all first class license men and all capable of handling the plant.

IN CLUTCH OF UNDERTOW.

At Salisbury beach Sunday afternoon four people, two of whom were boys from this city, Edwin Taplin of 138 Prospect street and James Barry of 23 Crosby street, came very near being drowned. The others were G. V. Pickett and Quigley of Newburyport.

The quartet were in bathing about 5 o'clock. At this time the tide was running swiftly in and the four bathers were alone in the water. They swam a good distance out, the men going to a greater distance than the boys. When they attempted to return however, they realized that their strength was not equal to the task, and they cried out for help.

The boys, who had not swam as far as their older companions, after a hard fight were able to reach a life preserver and then shoved on the boat had been drawn in. The men, however, were unable to do so and were being dragged by the undertow.

In the meantime a boat had been pushed off from the shore and a man whose name is unknown pulled toward the remaining two, whose heads now showed above the surface of the water. The man in the boat with great skill, soon brought his craft within reach of the drowning men, and heaved them completely exhausted, into the boat. The stranger whose prompt action saved the lives of the men, disappeared as soon as the boat had been drawn in. The swimmers explained that the heavy undertow was responsible for their predicament.

A CASE OF CHICKEN POX.

The Board of Health was notified yesterday that an Italian child, living at 81 Lowell street, was sick with what might prove to be a case of small pox. Dr. J. A. Magee was summoned and made an examination of the little one, with the result that he was pretty well satisfied that the case was one of chicken pox. But to take every precaution, there was, of course, the possibility that it was a case of small pox, another careful examination was made this morning. Dr. Magee is now thoroughly satisfied that the child is not afflicted with small pox, but with chicken pox.

It is said that there is a strong opinion that an epidemic of small pox will break out in this city this fall, since there were in many cases in this district just before the hot weather. The hot weather generally acts as a stay, but it is feared that the dread disease will break out with great force as soon as the cold weather returns.

WEEK'S DEATH RECORD.

The number of deaths reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Saturday, Aug. 2, was 32. Twenty-three were under five years of age and four were over 50.

The causes of death were as follows: Cholera-infantum 14, gastro enteritis 2, stillborn 2 and one case of edema of glottis and measles, cancer and anemia, gastritis and heart collapse, cholera morbus, meningitis, hepatitis, acute ileocolitis and malnutrition, diarrhoea, appendicitis, pneumonia and bronchitis, and one case of compression, pulmonary tuberculosis, heart disease and acute indigestion.

THE PRICE OF BEEF.

James M. Coburn of Kansas City, who has come to Lowell for Old Home Week, gives an interesting explanation of the cause of the present high prices in beef in one of the papers of that city.

Mr. Coburn formerly lived in Lowell and began his business career in the Old Lowell bank. He went west from Lawrence, where he was cashier of the Pemberton bank, and during the past few years he has been identified with the largest cattle grazing interests of the country.

Speaking of the present price of retail beef, and the charge that it was due to manipulation by the trust, he said:

"I am not friendly to the Big Four, but the real difficulty has been in the corn and other feed crops. There are four grades of beef, the export beef, which furnishes roasts weighing from 15 to 20 lbs., and which comes to this part of the country only to the hotels; the second quality, which nearly as good, which is not fattened so long; the third, which is fed partly on grass and partly on corn; and the lowest grade, which is all grass-fed, and which goes into corned beef, with the exception of the loins, which comes east."

"We begin to feed export steers for the fattening a year before it is killed, and 80 bushels of corn are required. The increase in the price of corn during the past year has cost the farmer $28 more than before to make a finished steer, so that beef which sold at six cents at wholesale now nets him no more than eight cents, although it cost the consumer from $2 to $3 more a hundred weight."

"My business is to raise three-year-old steers for the market. I am not getting as much profit as a year ago. The west has suffered in the past year the greatest shortage in corn and other feed crops for 17 years."

"The crop this year promises to be one of the best that we have had for a long time, but it will take from January to March before the beef will be upon the market. The market will come down then but we must eventually look for higher prices in beef, for the area of grazing lands is gradually being cut down and labor is higher."

Speaking of the proposed beef trust, he said: "It is sure to come." When P. D. Armour was alive, he was the king of the beef trade and did not want it. Swift is his successor as leader and want it. The trust will control all of the stock yards and packing houses in the country. Whether or not it will be a good thing for the country remains to be seen, but it is bound to come."

CHAUTAQUA SUMMER SCHOOL.

AN IDEAL SPOT. HEDDING, N. H.

New England has a variety of scenery and attractions at a summer resort, and when a person desires to day, a week, or a month in the country, he will find some portion of New England just the section which will suit his particular taste. One of these delightful places is Heddington, which is situated in the state of New Hampshire. It comprises a choice bit of pine forest and a delightful stretch of river which runs through and sends forth numerous streams and springs which give a moistened and freshened appearance to the surrounding scenery. At Heddington is situated the Chautauqua Summer school which opens every year with an extensive program of first class music and the best instructions in literature and other branches. For the benefit of those people who wish to spend their vacation at this attractive spot the Boston & Maine railroad announces that round trip tickets at reduced rates good going August 2nd and to 23rd and returning August 4th to 25th inclusive will be on sale from many of the principal stations on the eastern and western and southern divisions as advertised on posters.

TO SAVE HER CHILD

From frightful disfigurement, Mrs. Nannie Gallego, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by Arthur Bliss, druggist.

TELESCOPE TO START A LAND BOOM.

Prof. Turner declares that the erection of the observatory on Mt. Hamilton sent up the value of land in that region considerably. Accordingly, some enterprising gentlemen in another neighborhood, desiring to test the generality of the law that if a large telescope were built the value of land in the neighborhood would go up, announced a still larger telescope, and ordered two 40-inch discs of glass for the lenses.

The experiment succeeded admirably and they were so well satisfied with the rise in price which followed on the mere announcement (so the story goes), that they considered it unnecessary to proceed further with the instrument.

The two lenses were produced and, not being claimed, were left on the maker's hands, the result being that the favorable opportunity for their purchase was brought to Mr. Yerkes the great telescope that bears his name.

This, at least is Prof. Turner's version of the story.—San Francisco Argonaut.

ASTOUNDED THE EDITOR.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely pleased. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at Arthur Bliss's drug store.

A CLEANING UP.

"What was the cause of that awful racket and disturbance in your office just before you came?" asked one of the tenants on the third floor.

"You know that young cowboy that came yesterday to begin the study of law with me?" said the other.

"Yes."

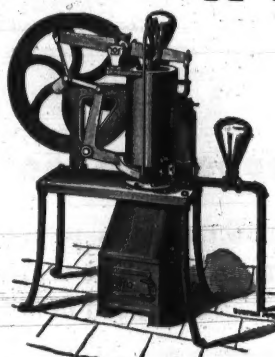

"Well, I thought he might as well begin at the bottom and told him that when he came down this morning the first thing for him to do would be to clean out the office. He found half a dozen fellows there waiting for me, but he did it, all right."—Chicago Tribune.

THE CROP OUTLOOK.

With a good warm spell the crops will gain the benefit of the recent rains. Up to the present there has been little disaster among the crops. As the state board points out however, continued cold weather will ruin corn crop. The excess of rainy weather has retarded the growing but has kept the garden crops growing well. Warm weather will straighten out the situation in this regard.

The state board discusses the situation as it exists as follows:

Much less than the usual amount of damage is reported from insects. Potato bugs are most numerous, but even they have been decidedly less injurious than usual, some correspondents reporting them so scarce that no repressive measures have been necessary.

The wet weather and cold nights have retarded the growth of Indian corn and it is badly in need of warm, growing weather. It is fully two weeks late and perhaps more in western sections, and continued cool weather will make it lose a partial failure for the crop more advanced. Silos continue to gain in favor and more corn is used for ensilage each year.

The excess of rainy weather made having progress very slowly, and at remained to be done, especially in western sections, where haying was, on the whole, not more than half completed. The rains improved the quantity of the crop so that it was close to average in western sections. In the eastern counties, where cuttings were generally earlier it was probably not over a two-thirds crop. The quality of the crop was generally good, although many fields should have been cut earlier, for best results. In this respect, much hay was caught and badly damaged by the frequent rain.

Fodder corn is the forage crop most extensively raised although it is clover-millet being the favorite. Out harnigan grass and barley follow in the order named. Other forage crops mentioned are oats and rye, peas, turnips, cabbage and buckwheat. Rather more of these crops than usual have been planted, and they are in excellent condition.

The frequent rains have kept market garden crops growing well, and with warmer weather excellent results are promised. Prices have apparently averaged better than usual.

At the time of making returns very few early potatoes have been dug, but almost all correspondents unite in reporting the prospects for the crop to be excellent. There are a very few reports of blight but not enough to affect the crop materially, unless it becomes more prevalent. Prices have been well sustained.

Apples continue to promise well, though the crop will not be a record one. Peaches promise to be even a smaller crop than has heretofore anticipated. Peaches promise a fair crop, perhaps above the average for this climate. Plums will be a fair crop, but not a heavy one. Quinces are good as far as reported. Grapes set very heavily. Cranberries appear to have set well as far as reported.

The frequent rains have kept feed in pastures growing well, and in most sections they were never in better condition at this time of year. Eye, oats and barley have generally done well. Oats and barley are little grown, except for forage, especially the latter, but promise well in that capacity.

ONE DEFINITION OF IT.

"What do you consider domesticity in man?"

"It is a trait of wanting to stay home, when his wife wants him to go out with her."

"And what is domesticity in woman?"

"That is the trait of being willing to stay home when her husband wants to go out without her."—Chicago Post.

THE REAL PHILOSOPHY.

"You don't seem, my dear Marjorie, to be so much disturbed over your affairs as formerly."

"No, my dear Aurelius; I have discovered that it is better to have the thing happen than to worry about it."—Life.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA INFANTUM.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbors was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. TO BUSY.

"Can't I sell you a cloak?" asked the man at the kitchen door.

"No, you can't" replied the woman of the house, red and flustered. "Hain't got time to wind it."

"But this an eight-day clock. You don't have to wind it oftener than once a week."

"Hain't got any time to wind eight- day clocks. We had one in the house 12 years. I wound it regular every Monday morning. It always took me a minute to wind both sides of it. One day I got so confused, how much time I spent on it. There's 52 weeks in a year. Twelve times 52 is 624. Six hun- dred and twenty-four minutes is 10 hours and 24 minutes. In them 12 years I'd put in a whole workin' day and more, too, winding that dratted. I put it up in the garret and hain't touched since. Don't need a clock any- way. We can go by the whistles. I've got a billin' on the stove, and I've throwed away minutes talkin' to you. Good mornin'!"

And she shut the door in his face.—Chicago Tribune.

NOT HIS KIND OF ENGLISH.

"That reminds me of an experience I once had out in Iowa getting rid of a German taleman," said one at- tending to a group of others seated in the appellate division of the court to open.

"My client was a rabid prohibition- ist, and the prejudice was so strong against him among the Germans who composed four-fifths of the inhabi- tants of the county that I could not hope for justice from one of them."

"While my opponent was trying to keep them on the jury I was trying to get them off. It was a hard fight, and I was doing my best to save my peremptory challenges, but when we needed two more jurors, and I had but one challenge left, the sheriff sum- moned a German to the box. His accent suggested a line of attack."

"Do you understand English?" I asked.

"Yes, very well," he answered.

"Do you never experience any diffi- culty in a clear comprehension of the tongue?" I continued.

"What?" he asked.

"My interrogatory is whether or not the generally accepted vocabulary of the language of the country in which the proceedings of our courts of law are conducted is well enough comprehended by you, so that after hearing testimony in that language you will be able to give proper weight to it."

"My victim, with a dazed expres- sion, did not answer, a titter went around the courtroom, the judge tried to suppress a smile and the opposing counsel, red in the face, objected, but the court told me to go on."

"Do you not find me sufficiently periphrastic?" I asked the taleman.

"What is that?" he inquired, while a quite audible laugh disconcerted him. The judge called for order.

"Is my lack of clearness or your obtuseness accountable for the want of comprehension on your part?" I con- tinued.

"I don't understand," he answered.

"That's English," I replied. He looked appealingly at the judge, and I made a motion to exclude him because he did not understand the language. My opponent laughed at my motion, but the court sustained it, but I think rather to expedite matters than be- cause the right was right."

"The result was that we got a jury while I had one peremptory challenge left, and my client got a verdict."—New York Herald.

HE WAS TAKING NO CHANCES.

I was expecting a letter at a Dakota postoffice, and when I went to inquire for it I found the postmaster to be doubtful of my identity.

"Sure you're the man?" he asked.

"Of course."

"Willing to make affidavit to it?"

"I am."

"Not after any one else's letters?"

"No, sir."

"Willing to swear and sign your name?"

"I told you I was."

"Where would the letter be from?" he continued.

"Boston perhaps."

"And written to you?"

"Certainly. You seem to be over- particular here."

"Yes, maybe I am, but being as no- body here has got a letter for the last month, and being as there is none for you, and not likely to be, I thought I wouldn't take any desperate chances, you know."

RECREATION PLACES IN THE OLD BAY STATE.

Summer time has approached and with it the desire and long looked for opportunity to enjoy a brief respite from the care and worries of toll in the ever freshening and cheering atmo- sphere of the country.

Perhaps only a few days are even one day in all the rest, which the constant tide and press of business will allow one; if so, why not spend it where health, recreation and enjoyment in every sense of the word can be pro- cured. One does not need to journey away to the mountains, but right here within our own state is a section which has all the necessary requirements for an ideal resort.

After having passed through the his- toric cities of Cambridge and Waltham, one comes into the town of Weston, which is beautifully situated on the banks of the Charles; next is Wayland noted for its natural beauty, like West- on, and for the large body of water within its borders, Lake Cochichewick, situated in the south-west portion from the city of Boston gets its water supply further on in East and South Sudbury, quaint, old villages, reminders of the famous old historic events which have long since transpired. Here to is the old "Wayside Inn," which has been immortalized by Longfellow and Haw- thorne, and one passes on through Hudson, Berlin, Clinton, Boylston and Oakdale, all celebrated for their grand scenery and healthful and invigorating atmosphere which is a noted charac- teristic of this region, and which is ac- counted for by the high elevation. Next comes Rutland, a delightful his- toric town which enjoys the distinction of having the highest town site in Cen- tral Massachusetts. It is also the geo- graphical center of the state, and is famous as a health resort. Barre, a town of sixty miles west from Boston has quite an elevation, and is noted for its excellent roads which are shaded for miles with large ash, oak and maple trees. Wake, fifteen miles west of Barre, is situated on a river of the same name and is covered with an im- mense growth of forestry and wood- land. Amherst is one of the largest of the towns in this section and is an ideal spot; it is remarkable for its grand scenery and the pure mineral springs which abound in this vicinity. It is quite close to Hadley which is bound- ed by the beautiful Mt. Holyoke ridge.

Thus without leaving the state, one can journey through one of the grand- est portions of scenic New England, where the beautiful hills, the grandest admirable elevation and the delightful tone of the country pervade this region com- bine to infuse and impress the visitor with ideas that the garden of Massa- chusetts is surely the place for a per- son in quest of a quiet and pleasant sojourn.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease. It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, af- fects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach. It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.

A young man, whose gallantry was largely in excess of his pecuniary means sought to remedy this defect and to save the money required for the pur- chase of expensive flowers by arrang- ing with a gardener to let him have a bouquet from time to time in return for his castoff clothes.

So it happened that one day he re- ceived a bunch of the most beautiful roses, which he at once dispatched to his lady love. In sure anticipation of a friendly welcome he called at the house of the young woman the same evening, and was not a little sur- prised at a frosty reception.

After a pause the young woman re- marked in the most frigid tones: You sent me a note today.

A note—?

Certainly along with the flowers. To be sure I sent you flowers—but— And this note was with the bouquet.

Do you mean to deny it?

And the young man read: Don't forget the old trousers you promised me the other day.—New York Tribune.

The Proposed New Boulevard.

The petition for a new highway between Lawrence and Lowell has brought forth a call for a public hearing, on the part of the county commissioners, and the same is to be held September 9, at the Lawrence court house. So far as can be learned little is known by the general public as to just what is contemplated by the proposed plan, the petition being signed by many citizens in the desire to have the matter fully discussed. The principal men and interests back of the project are those in whom the people of this section have large confidence, and there is little doubt but that they will be able to present many advantages in its favor.

If the town is to be helped, there should be general approval; if it is solely for the advancement of individual interests, it will not be successful, for neither the general public nor the Essex county commissioners are working along those lines. Certain it is that direct boulevards between such cities as Lowell and Lawrence are being constructed all along the line, and every section touched by such main ways is a large sharer in the improvement. Let the question be discussed broadly and honestly and it will be settled wisely.

The same old interesting list of "men who pay the bills" makes its annual appearance today. There are few changes, particularly along the line of increased personal tax paying, but that is probably owing to the small supplies of coal on hand in most people's bins. It cannot possibly be due to a lessening regard for the truth when it comes to giving a list of stocks and bonds. One thing is sure, nobody's hen house or shed has been overlooked, and there will probably be little complaint that the real estate of the town is not all covered. And when the real estate pays it all there won't be any question about the other fellow.

Editorial Cinders.

That was a good thing to do, that trip into one of the interesting sections of territory, in which Andover abounds, by one of the bands of young people, last Saturday. And it was made doubly interesting because of the leadership of Mr. Mills, who is an enthusiastic lover and student of outdoor life. Andover has many historic sites and queer landscapes and no more profitable outings could be arranged for our young people than occasional pilgrimages to explore and study the same. Unfortunately, there can not always be such a leader as Mr. Mills.

The town has closed up its small-pox account and the amount of the same promises to startle many of our good citizens. The expenses now foot up to over $4000, with a likelihood of other bills yet to come. The items promise to make very interesting reading in next year's annual report.

The President is coming to Lawrence on August 26, and not only Lawrence but the towns around promise to give him a royal reception. His stop will be at the South Lawrence station and will cover not over fifteen minutes, but the present nation's ruler can say a lot in that length of time.

New Electric Road.

Not only in Andover but all around this town strides are being made in electric road building. Now comes the word that the Lawrence & Methuen electric road to Canobie lake will be in operation in two weeks. It is estimated that the trip will take 30 minutes and the fare will be 15 cents. A splendid $50,000 park has been completed which is to be made one of the handiest parks in New England. It covers 50 acres and overlooks the lake. There is a rustic theatre, ping pong parlors, pool and billiard rooms, dining room, lunch room, bowling alleys, etc. Andover people can go there about as quickly as they can now to Glen Forest.

Broke a Record.

Alfred L. Ripley, of this place, a member of the Oakley Club, made a new amateur record for the extended and newly tilled links of the Shinnecock Hills G. C., yesterday, in a four ball match. He is now one of the favorites for the annual tournament which began yesterday. Ripley beat Travis for the first cup in 1899 by 20 holes and some of the Southampton club men think that he may do so again. The bogey of the extended course is 80, a mark Ripley bettered by four strokes.

TRIP TO SEASHORE.

Tyer Rubber Company Employees Enjoy An Outing at Revere.

On Saturday last one of the most successful outings ever held by the employees of the Tyer Rubber company took place at Revere beach. The day was well nigh perfect and the extremely warm weather made the occasion all the more desirable for a trip to the seashore. While the stay-at-homes were sweltering in Andover, those who attended the outing were enjoying cooling breezes from old ocean.

The trip was made by special cars, six of them leaving Andover square at 7.30 a. m., comfortably filled with 300 happy carefree picnicers. The route was by way of Reading, Stoneham, Melrose, Malden, Everett and Chelsea, through to the beach without a change. Arriving at this splendid resort where the attractions are numerous and the bathing facilities almost unrivalled, the participants of the outing scattered far and wide along the shore to seek amusement as fancy dictated. Some left Revere to go to Lynn beach, Nahant, Point of Pines or Boston, but the majority stayed at Orescent.

Of course nearly everybody tried the bathing and great was the sport that the surf furnished. Dinner was obtained at the restaurants along the shore and the day passed all too rapidly for the party.

At 5.30 the first car left for Andover followed at 6 by the other five. The return trip, like that going was enlivened by singing and some extempore music by the party. At bedtime the cars reached Andover and the happy, successful outing of 1902 had passed into a memory.

To the committee consisting of James Daly, James Kyle and Gordon May belongs all the credit for the perfect arrangements to which the picnicers owed everything in the way of comfort and pleasure on the trip to and from Revere, for the car facilities were excellent. It is probable also that the committee ordered the good weather.

Italians Strike.

The Italians brought from Boston Monday to work on the Lawrence & Salem road went on a strike Tuesday at North Andover Centre, and made things interesting for time keeper William Sullivan. There were 85 of the men and after they arrived there was nothing for them to do Monday as the contractors were not quite ready for them, the tools being at Middleton. They were to have gone to work at Carney's corner but instead they hung around the corner all day. Tuesday the men were ordered to take their picks and shovels and walk to Middleton, a distance of perhaps eight miles. They had nearly reached their destination when the trouble which had been brewing among them came to a head and they refused to go farther and returned to North Andover. When they demanded their pay for the day they had loafed but it was refused and they prevented the timekeeper from going to his home. Finally by the aid of the North Andover and Lawrence police the timekeeper was allowed to depart.

GRUESOME FUID

Body of Dead Man Discovered Near Lawrence Line in Frye Village.

On Sunday, Paul Belanger, a farm hand in the employ of D. F. Donovan, whose place, known as the Smith farm, is in South Lawrence, not far from Frye Village, while walking in the woods east of South Union street beyond the Boston & Maine railroad crossing stumbled over a dead body which he suddenly came upon in the bushes. He at once notified his employer who sent word to the police station, and an officer with Medical Examiner Dow went to the scene. Undertaker Colby was also notified.

The spot where the body lay is low and swampy, and secluded by thick growth of underbrush. It was about 100 yards southeast of the railroad crossing.

The body lay on its left side, with face downward, and resting on the right arm. It was attired in a dark suit, lace shoes, black stockings and white shirt, with broad blue stripes. The man was large of stature, and must have weighed about 175 pounds when alive.

There was nothing about the body which would indicate age, nor was there anything about the person of the deceased which could be used as a means of identification.

The body had probably been there since early spring and is thought to be that of a tramp.

The body was buried in Bellevue cemetery on Sunday.

Since the discovery of the body, the Lawrence authorities have received a mysterious postal, which may result in the identification of the body.

The postal card read as follows:

"The man you got in the bush at Frye Village is John F. Harkins of Newport or Pawtucket, R. I. He died July 2, last. He was married, too, and has four children in Pawtucket, R. I. This is all I know, only I saw him when he was going to Lawrence, and his daughter was down here last week looking for him. His brother keeps a hotel in Providence, R. I. I am sure I am right, as you can find out by asking."
(Signed) "P. L."

As far as the writing was concerned, there was nothing on the postal, except the initials, to show who wrote it, and there was nothing to show from where and when it was written. The postmark, however, showed that the postal was stamped in Lowell. The writing was bad and the spelling was poor.

The Pawtucket authorities are inclined to think that the man may have been John F. Harkins, who was well known in that city because of his eccentric actions.

A Famous Relic.

The expedition of the Christian Endeavor Walking club really came off Saturday, August 2, after two postponements. The day was hot enough, and a convenient auction draw away the people who would have come in at the finish too tired for a second trip. Roger was invited, and has made already a list of the eligibles, full of regret that no one had told them. The courteous small boy, the comfortable growing girl, the person who has the art of asking questions, the athlete who knows the best way to cross a nailed gate, the city lady used to hard pavements, a couple of "clums" from the Endeavor ranks to add light and grace, the young farmer who knows the whole ground and loves it, and the inevitable supply of Andover spinners, ready for anything about the old acres the forefathers have held 200 odd years, these all held up their cups and Mr. Mills filled them joyfully and completely. We brought away a good deal of sand, of course, but there is still enough of the Plains left to make a second trip, when the cool days come and the leaves fall, very desirable, and I for one hope it can be arranged.

We scrambled over the famous kames and kettle holes around Pomp's, and climbed the artificial grade of the old B. & M. R. R. that we needed to lift it up to the level of the high "Delta Plain", left by the piled up "mess" of the glacial floods flowing beneath the ice and trailing out the ridges. Pomp's pond and the wriggling branches of the old Ipswich antique that enliven the North Reading landscape were explained to us, and we saw how carefully this bit of the ice ages had been guarded from the intrusion of the modern Shawshin and the Merrimac, both streams having dug their way free since the old Ballard Vale section was built up, in the middle of a great glacial lake hemmed in at the retreat of the ice bound northward under freshets and sunshine.

When we had gathered up the tiny Indian pipe deep rooted under the pines in its place "prepared for it since the foundation of the world", and drank at the spring of "living water" at the Reservation on the walk home, Roger voted the party the best thing of the kind he had ever followed after, and wondered why people tried themselves on those noisy electric, when the great book of the past was enrolled for us day after day. But we do not always have Mr. Mills along, who knows about a great many other things. I suppose, as well worth talking over as our world-famous Ballard Vale sandbank.

For New River Road to Lowell.

The Essex county commissioners have been petitioned by many residents in Lawrence and Andover to lay out a highway between Lawrence and Lowell through Andover on the south side of the river. The commissioners will give a hearing on the petition in the Lawrence county court house on Tuesday, the ninth of September. The premises will be viewed and the petitioners and remonstrants if any heard.

SMALLPOX EXPENSIVE

Quarantine Finally Raised and the Town Free of Disease.

At last Andover may be considered entirely rid of smallpox after an epidemic of about 10 weeks. The disease first made its appearance about the last of May in the family of William H. Welch, and from them it spread to neighbors, intimate friends and others, so that in all about 12 cases, most of them light, were reported and cared for.

It has been an expensive epidemic for the town, if reports of the amount due those who have had a share in caring for the victims is correct. It is stated that the town will be called upon to pay bills amounting to nearly, if not quite, $4200. Part of this, perhaps $300 to $500, will be reimbursed by the state, i. e. that portion spent for the Bowley family, in which occurred the only death, that of Frank Bowley, the father. The family had recently come to Andover from Exeter and had not obtained a residence here.

The care of the patients has been in the hands of Dr. Magee, of Lawrence, an experienced doctor in this disease. The Board of Health has also been assisted by Mr. Smith, agent of the Lawrence Board of Health. It is understood that Dr. Magee's bill amounts to over $1200.

Nearly all the bills are now in and the total cost to the town may soon be learned.

Wednesday, Dr. Magee decided that the danger was all over and the quarantine of Mrs. John Collins, the last victim to recover, was raised.

Funchard's Courses of Study.

An outline of the course of study for use in Funchard school is being sent to pupils and last June's graduates of the grammar schools. Anyone overlooked or anyone who would like a copy may obtain it by either dropping a postal to Principal Baldwin or calling at the Funchard School building any afternoon next week between three and four o'clock. There are to be three courses, a general course to furnish preparation for schools of technology, normal schools, for college courses not requiring Greek, and is suitable for pupils who have not decided on any definite line of study, a commercial course to prepare pupils for business life and a college course for preparation for college. Instead of adopting one of the courses as outlined, pupils may, with the approval of parents and principal, make up a course of study for themselves. To receive a diploma, a pupil is required to take studies representing sixteen periods of prepared recitations each week. A pupil who takes less than the required amount of work is a partial student, and is not entitled to a diploma. Certificates will, on request, be granted to partial students who have successfully completed at least one year's work.

Letter to Smith & Manning.

Andover, Mass.

Dear Sirs: You sell a good many things by the gallon. Being a decent firm, you give full measure.

You know what we mean: you know that short weight and short measure are common among—well, we hope there are no short measures and weights in your town.

There are, though. Ribbons and laces and trimmings, sold by the "dozen," measure nine or ten yards. There is no complaint, because "they all do it."

You have the same plague in your goods—nearly everything canned or bottled cheats in quantity. Almost nobody gives full weight in a factory-package.

We are one of the almost nobodies. We sell paint, by the gallon, to paint your house; and our gallon is just the same size as yours that you measure vinegar with—231 cubic inches.

Good paint, too—Devoe lead and zinc—weighs twice as long as old-fashion paint—lead and oil.

You own a house. That's why we are writing to you.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady of sixteen years, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet, and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by all druggists.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

As announced exclusively in Tuesday afternoon's issue of the Telegram, Mayor Leonard received a telegram from Congressman W. S. Knox Tuesday afternoon, informing him that President Roosevelt would pass through Lawrence en route for Maine, on Tuesday, August 26th, and that the Presidential party would be the guests of the citizens at the South Lawrence station, for 15 minutes, from 10:10 to 10:25 a. m. The message also stated that it was the desire that there be no public reception, and Mr. Knox informed the mayor, that later, he would confer with him regarding arrangements.

On the way to Maine, the party will make three 15-minute stop-overs: at Lowell, at Lawrence, and at Haverhill. This was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting which was held at the State House, Boston, at 1 o'clock and which was attended by Senator Lodge, Governor Crane, Secretary of the Navy Moody, Congressman Knox, and a few others. Congressman Knox is to see to it that proper arrangements are made in Lowell and Lawrence, and in doing this he will confer with and work in conjunction with the mayor of each city. The arrangements at Haverhill will be attended to by Secretary Moody who is a resident of that city. He, of course, will work with the mayor.

Regarding the trip from Boston to Maine the Hon. W. S. Knox said last night: "The President will be the guest of Senator Lodge on Sunday, August 24. On Tuesday morning, August 26, the Presidential party will leave Boston for Maine and will arrive in Lowell at 9:30 a. m. After a stop of 15 minutes there the party will leave at 9:45 and will go to Lawrence, arriving here at 10:10 and remaining until 10:25, a stop of 15 minutes. At Haverhill another stop of 15 minutes will be made, then the party will go straight to Maine without another stop-over."

When asked as to the nature of the reception, Mr. Knox said that he had nothing definite in mind, although it had been suggested at the meeting yesterday afternoon that the local companies of the state militia might turn out and a short parade be held. According to what he said, the people of Lawrence may feel tolerably sure of hearing a short address from their chief executive, no matter what the other arrangements are. A temporary platform will probably be erected at the station, although it is possible that the President will address the gathering from the rear platform of the car.

Congressman Knox said last night that as far as the local reception was concerned, the mayor will, of course, have to make the first move in regard to the appointment of a reception committee and the making of other arrangements. He said that he would confer with the mayor in the near future.

Mayor Leonard said last night that as yet he had taken no steps in the matter. He is awaiting the conference with Congressman Knox. After that, it is expected that a committee from the city government and prominent citizens will be appointed and arrangements will be made for a fitting reception to the nation's chief executive.

THE PRESIDENT'S ITINERARY.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The secretary to the President, Mr. Cortelyou, has telegraphed to Senator Lodge and Senator Hoar that the President will reach Boston on Saturday, Aug. 23, late in the afternoon, and will go at once to Nahant, where he will stay Sunday with Senator Lodge, where it is the President's desire to have a quiet Sunday and where he will receive no one.

Monday morning, Aug. 25 the President will start for Taunton, and will reach there about 8 o'clock, where he will be received by Boston Congressmen.

Tuesday morning, August 26, he will go to the Boston and Maine to New Hampshire, making 15 minutes stops at Lowell, South Lawrence and Haverhill. After a week in Maine and New Hampshire he will return to Massachusetts on Monday, Sept. 1, reaching Northfield late that afternoon; he will leave that night at Northfield and will leave at 8:30 p. m., Tuesday, Sept. 2, arriving at Miller's Falls at 8 p. m., leaving at 9 a. m., arrive Fitchburg 10:40 leave 11:40. He will next go to Worcester, where he will visit Senator Hoar, at 12:40 p. m., and will leave at 2 p. m. He will arrive at Springfield at 4:20 p. m., and leave at 6:20 p. m. He will arrive at Westfield at 8:30 p. m., and leave at 8:50 p. m., either to Dalton, where it is hoped he may go to pass the night with Governor Crane or for New Haven.

Mr. Cortelyou states that it is the President's desire that there shall be no public reception held anywhere. The President will speak briefly at the various points indicated but will hold no reception of any kind. Where time is sufficient he would like to be driven about and have an opportunity to see something of the city or town. Any meeting which the President has announced to address will of course be strictly non-partisan and wholly public.

Mr. Cortelyou wishes it understood also that the itinerary and the time allowed for each point must be adhered to absolutely.

Governor Crane, Secretary Moody and Senator Lodge met with such members of the Congressional delegation as could be reached today, and it was announced that the congressman in each district should take charge of the President's visit at every place where he stops in the respective districts.

The arrangements in Boston for Monday, the 25th will be in charge of the Governor, the Mayor of the city and the Congressmen representing the Boston district. At other places the local arrangements which will be made by the different congressmen will be in the hands of the Mayors of cities or the selectmen of the towns.

TO BE RUNNING IN TWO WEEKS.

TO BE RUNNING IN TWO WEEKS.

"It will be running in two weeks," is the statement that has been heard everywhere little while for the past year or more, in regard to the new Hampshire street line of the Lawrence & Methuen Street Railway company, but now if the opinion of those at the head of the company is to be taken, the road will be in operation before the end of the present week, for no less a person than Mr. Lovell himself, has made this estimate. The opinion of others, however, is that the line will not be running this week, but they say that it is a certainty that the cars will be in operation before the end of another two weeks.

The opening is anxiously awaited, for the people of Lawrence are eager to visit the new Canobie lake park and to ride over the line which is promised to be one of the finest lines anywhere to be found in this section. The cars have been built and are already provided with their painted signs. They are complete and ready at any time to be put right into service. The cars are the great long, wide, double-truck cars, of Laconia make, and the very best and latest pattern. As to the rail they are to run on, a great deal has already been said. It is the same as is being put into all of the most up to date electric railroads.

The Hampshire street bridge which the cars will cross, has been replanked by the company and has been greatly strengthened by heavy iron girders. This work was completed last week.

The main line will run up Hampshire street, to Methuen, through Pelham, and to Salem, N. H. At Methuen the route to Canobie lake branches off and for the greater part, runs over private ground belonging to the company.

The line between Salem, N. H., and Haverhill is in operation at the present time, and it is said that as soon as the Hampshire street line is opened up, the line between Salem, N. H., and Nashua, N. H., will be at once opened. Then there will be a direct line between Haverhill and Nashua, N. H., and either place can be reached from Lawrence by changing cars at Salem, N. H.

The run to Canobie lake, it is estimated, will be made in 30 minutes and the fare will be 10 cents.

The power to operate the cars will be received from Portsmouth, N. H., through a sub-station located at Salem, N. H. This will give the company ample power to operate all of its cars in this section.

At Canobie Lake Park, it is said, that already $50,000 has been laid out to beautify the place and to make it an ideal resort; and furthermore no money is to be spared in making the park one of the handsomest parks in New England. Many from this city who have visited the spot, say that it is one of the most beautiful that they have yet seen. The territory which it covers is 50 acres and some idea of its size may be had when it is said that the park is about three times as large as the Lawrence common.

At the resort there is enjoyment to be found for everybody, young and old. Boating will be a popular pastime and those who prefer tennis or baseball have not been forgotten. The more up-to-date who prefer ping-pong, as any other game can amuse themselves all day long in the finely equipped ping-pong parlors, here are also bowling alleys, pool and billiard tables, and amusements of every description. The main building is built in the shape of a maltese cross with the theatre in one wing, the dining room and lunch room in another, ping-pong parlors, bowling alleys, etc., in the others. The pavilion is a very large one and overlooks the beautiful sheet of water, Canobie lake.

The restaurant will be in charge of George Dunham who has charge of the restaurant at Hampton beach, and the theatre will be under the management of J. W. Gorman who will furnish the talent.

The grounds are beautifully laid out and there are plenty of swings and seats. Altogether it is an ideal summer resort and a great deal is in store for the people of Lawrence as soon as the new line begins to operate its cars.

MYSTERIOUS POSTAL.

Although the police were inclined to believe that the Frye Village mystery would never be solved (and the city marshal is still inclined that way) it is probable that the letter which City Marshal O'Sullivan received Tuesday morning, may ultimately result in the identification of the body which was found in a clump of bushes near the Andover line, last Saturday evening. If the matter is handled properly, the letter may also lead to the locating of its writer who may be found to know considerable concerning the death of the unknown man.

The sentences were written on a postal card. There was no introduction and the postal card read as follows:

"The man you got in the push at Frye Village is John P. Harkins of Newport or Pawtucket, R. I. He died July 2, last. He was married, too; and has four children in Pawtucket, R. I. That is all I know, only I saw him when he was going to Lawrence, and his daughter was down here last week, looking for him. His brother keeps a hotel in Providence, R. I. I am sure I am right as you can find out by asking."

As far as the writing was concerned, there was nothing on the postal, except the initials, to show who wrote it, and there was nothing to show from where and when it was written. The postmark, however, showed that the postal was stamped in Lowell at 1 o'clock this morning and that it was received in this city at 7:30 a. m. The writing was bad and the spelling was poor.

Marshal O'Sullivan is not inclined to touch such stock in the postal, as he thinks it was written by some man whose imagination ran away with him. "It goes too far," says the marshal, "when this man tells us just when the unknown man met his death. Of course it is possible that the two men were tramping together, and that one of them went into the bushes and died. I do not think that there was any murder."

The marshal gave the impression that he was to let the matter drop and that he did not intend to even notify the police of Lowell.

It seems very probable that the one who wrote the letter might be able to throw considerable light on the whole matter; and it might not prove such a difficult task to locate him, if an effort were made to do so.

A PROVIDENTIAL PORTER.

A gentleman, Scotch Presbyterian, traveling with his 5-year-old son, told the child as he put him to bed to say his prayers as usual, which the boy flatly refused to do.

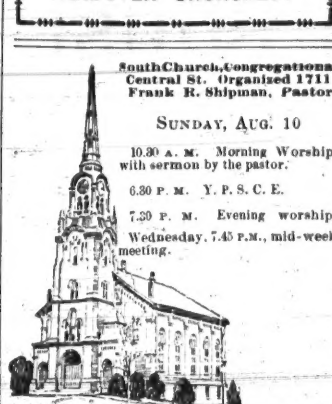

"Don't you want the Lord to take care of you tonight?" asked an anxious father.

"What's the porter here for?" was the child's response.—July Lippincott's.

Obituary. Mary J. (Morrissey) Murphy, the wife of Patrick J. Murphy, passed away Tuesday afternoon at 6.15 o'clock, at the family home on Main street, corner of Sutton street. Her death was very sudden, both to the family and her many friends, who were not aware that she was dangerously ill. She had not been well for a long time, but she had been around and attended to her household duties within a few days. The immediate cause of death was Bright's disease.

Mrs. Murphy was a native of this town, being born here over forty years ago. She was the daughter of Michael and Jane Morrissey, who were old residents of North Andover. Her mother died over 25 years ago, her father preceded her by about eight years. She was educated in the public schools and was brought up in the teachings of the Catholic faith. St. Michael's church, where she had been a constant attendant and a devout believer.

She was united in marriage with Patrick J. Murphy, also of this town, a number of years ago. The union has been blessed with two bright children, a daughter, Nellie, and a son, Thomas, who survive her. She also leaves besides her husband and two children, a sister, Miss Hannah Morrissey of Boston, and two brothers, Thomas and John, both of this town.

The deceased was for many years a Sunday school teacher in St. Michael's church. She was also a member of the choir at one time. In late years she has aided her husband much in the care of the variety and grocery store, which they have conducted at the corner of Main and Sutton streets. In this capacity she became widely known and greatly respected by all who knew her, and especially among the young people, with whom she sympathized.

Obsequies. The funeral services over the remains of the late Mary J. Murphy, wife of Patrick Murphy, were held from St. Michael's church Thursday at nine o'clock. The services were attended by a host of the relatives and friends of the deceased, who filled the church to its doors. The deceased was a well known and highly respected lady of this community and her demise will be greatly mourned by all. At the services William Smith rendered "Calvary," after the mass, in a most touching manner.

The body rested in a black broadcloth casket, surrounded by numerous floral offerings. The plate bore the inscription:

Mary Jane Murphy, Died Aug. 5th, 1902, At Rest.

Interment took place in the Immaculate Conception cemetery at Methuen. The pall bearers were John Cronley, Martin Morrissey, John Morrissey, John Morris, James Toole and Jeremiah McDonald.

PROVINCETOWN SEA TRIPS.

No vacation in Boston or the suburbs is really complete without indulging in those interesting, inspiring and exhilarating sea trips on the Bay Line to the Tip of the Cape. They apparently are more popular this summer than ever before. The sweltering weather which makes the city so unbearable gives place on the bosom of old ocean to cool, refreshing and invigorating breezes, tempering the sun's rays and making the day's outing a positive delight. The excursion itself on the stanch, well appointed steamer Cape Cod to Provincetown is a veritable tonic, the best possible restorative for brain and body. Then, too, the sojourn on shore, amid the old Pilgrim landmarks at the
